

WATER UNDER THE BRIDGE

Written by: Jeff Shattuck

Water Under The Bridge

(From the forever upcoming album Cerebellum Blues Volume One)

Written by: Jeff Shattuck

Guitars: Tim Young

Vocals: Eryn Young

Bass & Keys: Sam Bevan

Engineered: Jaime Durr

There are things we've said we should have left unsaid
And we have told some lies

And sometimes we know what should be unknown
And we have worn more than one disguise

So many words
So much still unheard
So much to forgive
So many dreams deferred

We say it's water under the bridge
But the water is rising
Yes, it's water under the bridge
But the water is rising

And there are things we've done that can't be undone
We have to live with what we deny

So many regrets
So much to forget
So much to try to forgive
So many unpaid debts

We say it's water under under the bridge
But the water is rising
Yes, it's water under the bridge
But the water is rising
But the water is rising

But the water is rising up

And yet we stand where we are
After all we've come so far
It would be a shame to admit
We wished upon a fading star

And yet we stand where we are
After all we've come so far
And we both know so well (that the)
Dreams can die way too hard